

SCHLEY TO HAVE A NAVAL COURT

Board of Inquiry Will Investigate the Santiago Campaign.

DEWEY TO PRESIDE

Promises To Be a Celebrated Case in the History of Army and Navy.

TO PROBE CHARGES

Washington, July 24.—Secretary Long received a letter from Admiral Schley this morning requesting the appointment of a board of inquiry to investigate his conduct during the Santiago campaign. A consultation with the staff immediately followed at which the personnel of the court and other matters relating to an investigation were discussed. Some formal announcement is expected during the day from the secretary's office.

Will Sue for Libel Also. Admiral Schley asks for an investigation at the hands of a naval court of inquiry and then he will sue historian Maclay for libel. His action is the sequel to developments during the past week, when the entire country has been stirred by the publication of the unexamined abuse poured upon him in the third volume of E. S. Maclay's "History of the United States Navy," in which publication Schley is said to have run away "in coward flight" and is in addition denounced as a coward, a cur and a traitor.

Will Be a Celebrated Case. The Schley court of inquiry will doubtless be one of the most celebrated cases in the naval or military history of the country. The high rank of the officers involved in the controversy and the intense public feeling which has been aroused will combine to give to the investigation a dramatic interest. Nothing has occurred in Washington for many years that will compare with it.

Dewey Will Preside. Soon after the consultation Admiral Dewey called upon Long by request and was tendered and accepted the presidency of the court of inquiry. It was announced that the court will meet here in September. The names of the Tribunal will be made known later.

Schley's request for an investigation is based on Maclay's history. In his letter Schley says, while admitting the right to fairly criticize every public officer, he cannot submit to "low flings and abusive language of this violent partisan opponent who has infused into the pages of his book so much malice and unfairness as to make it unworthy the name of history."

Long immediately replied heartily approving of the rear admiral's action and announcing his intention of at once proceeding in accordance with his request.

DEMOCRATS LOOK TO BURR W. JONES; DESIRE HIM TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Move to Push the Madison Man for the Nomination—

It is Thought He Would Accept.

MADISON, Wis., July 24.—[Special]—Ex-Congressman Burr W. Jones, of this city, will be the next democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin, if a move which is now on foot among certain democrats of the state is successful. The move is being pushed very quietly, but it is learned on good authority that a conference was held very recently in this city, at which plans for the preliminary work were laid out. It is said that J. J. Hogan and ex-Postmaster Batchelder are in charge of the boom in LaCrosse, Thos. Barton and J. J. McGeehan in Ashland and James Elmore Jr. in Green Bay. Milwaukee has not been invaded yet, out of respect to Mayor

STRIKE OUTLOOK IS DANGEROUS

Restless Strikers in the Pennsylvania Steel Districts Liable to Cause an Outbreak.

Pittsburg, July 24.—The Amalgamated officials scarcely know which of the three places, McKeesport, Weavertown or Pittsburg, will require their first attention. In McKeesport there is danger of an outbreak on the part of the restless strikers. In Weavertown there is a strain on account of developments following further attempts at resumption of work and in Pittsburg there is the liability of injunction suits.

It is rumored that Shaffer held an early morning conference with the steel representatives but neither side will discuss the matter.

Coal Miners to March. Earlinton, July 24.—The union miners from Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky are expected to gather at Madisonville Sunday and organize a marching party to visit the mines and attempt to force non-union men to quit work.

RUSSIAN CROPS ALSO A FAILURE

Reports to the Department of Agriculture from St. Petersburg Give Discouraging News.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the United States department of agriculture, dated July 21, states that a temperature of 103 degrees, was reached that day in Odessa and that that phenomenal heat was prevailing through all of northern Russia. A cablegram to the department from London, dated July 20, mentioned reports that the crops in Siberia appear to be nearly a total failure, adding that in the districts of Minusinsk and Krasnoyarsk almost the entire growth of cereals has perished as the result of a two months' drought and that in the trans-Baikal country the condition of the crops was almost equally bad.

It is further stated that in the provinces of the Volga region the peasantry are already practically destitute, having sold the cattle and horses they could not feed, and consumed "nearly their whole scanty stocks of food and seed grain." Even in the part of southern Russia where the crop is on the whole said to be a fair average there are, says the dispatch, disastrous shortages in the province of Ekaterinoslav, and "an instance is cited of the utter destruction of about 40,000 acres of grain by hail-storms and the Hessian fly."

A cablegram from Moscow, dated July 17, says that the reports from twenty provinces show the prospects of the Russian crops for the present season to be less favorable than they were a month earlier.

LOCATE BENDERS IN COLORADO

Notorious Family Guilty of a Score of Murders in Kansas, Said to Be in That State.

Topeka, Kan., July 24.—The four members of the notorious Bender family, guilty of a score of murders, are said to have been located in Colorado and Governor Stanley today issued requisitions for their apprehension. The accused consist of father, mother, daughter and son. The former two would now be more than 70 years old, while their children are past the 50 mark. They are now said to be near Fort Collins, Colo. Information to this effect was given to Governor Stanley by Frank Ayres of that place, who asserts that Kate Bender was once his wife. Four men who went to Colorado identify and support his claim of Ayres.

The Benders lived on a small farm near Galena and for years, as it developed after their flight twenty-seven years ago, had lured travelers to their place, murdered them for their money and buried their bodies in the yard around their home or under the house. The house was arranged with trap doors. All four members of the family are accused of aiding in the murders.

An investigation into the disappearance of Dr. York, brother of a Kansas state senator, who had stopped at the Benders and whose bones were found beneath the house led to the flight. Heavy rewards for their arrest were offered by the state, but they were never captured, although many false clues were run down.

PEOPLE GOING HUNGRY AT EL RENO; WOMEN SLEEPING ON THE GROUND

They Have No Bed Clothes, and Use Sticks of Hard Wood for Pillows—Many Persons Die, Being Attacked by Various Forms of Sickness.

Kansas City, Mo., July 24.—Alexander Henderson, assistant chief of the fire department, returned from El Reno, Ok., this morning.

"I registered for myself and for a friend, an old soldier," he said, "and when I had finished I took the first train for Kansas City. There are 100,000 strangers in the new country, and the sight was one of the most astounding I have ever seen. I wouldn't have stayed three more days in El Reno for $100 a day. There isn't any good water in the city and the day I left there the beer ran out. Friday morning at 11 o'clock seven carloads of beer arrived in El Reno and the next day at the same hour every drop of that beer had been sold at ten cents per small glass.

"People are going hungry. There isn't half enough to eat, and what food there is isn't fit to eat. I did not eat a square meal while I was there. The sanitary conditions of the city are something awful. If the rush should continue three or four weeks, there would be an epidemic of disease, I dare say, unparalleled in the history of the country. "I saw hundreds of women sleeping on the ground in El Reno. Many of them had no bed clothes and used sticks of cord wood for pillows. There are numerous tents where a cot may be obtained for $1 per night. The clothing was so dirty, though, that I decided to stay awake. At any hour of the night you can find hundreds of people walking the streets and in the saloons. One saloon keeper told me he would clear $25,000 and if he could get enough beer he would make double that. There I went to the postoffice, as I knew there would be some letters for me. I got to the office and found a line of people in waiting at least five blocks in length.

"There are some awful sights in the new country, and when it is considered that only one person in about seven will get a claim, it seems that the opening will have worked more evil than good. People are dying, being attacked by various forms of sickness, and many of them are being fleeced by gamblers and crooks, while about five-sixths of them will be disappointed after the result of the lottery is known."

HUNT TO SUCCEED GOVERNOR ALLEN

He Will Take the Latter's Place in Porto Rico on Sept. 1—Is Now Secretary.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—William H. Hunt, the present secretary of Porto Rico, has been selected to succeed Governor Allen upon the retirement of the latter from the insular government Sept. 1. Governor Allen is now here on leave of absence and he will not return to Porto Rico. Allen accepted the appointment only at the earnest solicitation of the President.

He went to San Juan and remained as long as he thought his services were needed. When the territorial legislature proclaimed the ability of the island to maintain a government by internal taxation, Governor Allen regarded it as a time when he could retire. He brought a copy of that act of the legislature to lay before the president, and at the same time laid before the president his resignation.

William H. Hunt, who has been selected to succeed Charles H. Allen as governor of Porto Rico, was born in New Orleans, La., Nov. 5, 1857 and is the fourth son of the late William Henry Hunt of Louisiana, who was secretary of the navy in the cabinets of Presidents Garfield and Arthur, and later Minister to Russia.

ARIZONA TO HAVE BIG OLIVE CROP

Greatest Gathering of Oleaginous Fruit Ever Known in the Territory About to Begin.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 24.—The harvest is about to commence on the largest crop of olives that has ever been known in Arizona, and in a week will begin the work upon a new and rapidly developing industry of the Southwest.

Ten years ago the first olives were planted in Arizona. The olive is an evergreen, an excellent shade tree, and of sturdy stock, not requiring a great supply of water. A number of ranchers brought in several thousand trees and planted them along their drives and irrigating ditches. In only one instance was faith put in the productive value of the tree. One rancher set out an orchard of eighteen acres. He was a Californian and knew that the only olives which had thrived in that state had gathered their substance from a soil that in every respect resembled that of Central Arizona. Every olive tree that was planted here thrived beyond all expectations. Six years later they bore a crop. Then several orchards were planted in olives. The next year the first trees bore heavily, and Arizona became a rival to Italy, Spain and California in the olive business.

MAY SEND DEWEY TO CORONATION

Reasons Why Uncle Sam Should Make a Grand Naval Display When Edward is Crowned.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The occasion of the coronation of King Edward is to be seized upon by the naval authorities of the United States to make a demonstration to impress the British and other European countries with the prowess of our navy. This is the motive behind the suggestion that Admiral Dewey be given the command of a fleet to attend the coronation.

The ships recently ordered to the European station are not considered fair representatives of our navy. The Alabama is a foreign built vessel, purchased during the war with Spain from a British shipyard; the Chicago is one of the early vessels of the new navy, and the Nashville is a comparatively small gunboat.

These ships are to be in command of Rear Admiral Cromwell, who will be retired from active service next spring and will be succeeded by another flag officer. It was pointed out by the rear admiral who made the suggestion to send Dewey with a fleet of modern warships and cruisers to English waters that since we have an officer of the highest rank it would be appropriate and fitting to the importance and dignity of the coronation to place him in command of a squadron of the latest type of our largest ships.

It is expected that the naval pageant at the time of the coronation will bring together many of the finest ships in the navies of Europe, and for that reason it urged, the United States should be represented by some of its best ships under the command of its highest ranking and most distinguished officer.

DELANVAN LAKE ASSEMBLY OPENS

It is a Record Breaker in the Matter of Attendance—An Open Air Concert This Morning.

Delavan, Wis., July 24.—This year will be a record breaker in the matter of numbers present at the Delavan lake assembly, which opened today. As early as a week before opening day there were many people on the grounds getting settled in cottages, that no time might be lost that could be given to the meetings of the session.

So many applications for tent space and accommodations have poured in upon the management that, taking all these in addition to those who already have cottages and temporary homes and those who will come trooping in after the session is begun, the problem is how to cater to and care for so great a number. The management believes, however, that the crowds can be successfully handled and that the assembly of 1901 will be another triumph.

The initial number on the program for today was an open air concert at 10:30 in the morning by the Elkhorn Cornet band. At 3 p. m. the opening exercises in the auditorium will take place, followed by an address by the Honorable Charles Denby, former minister to China, who has announced that his subject will be China.

BARNS DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING

Destruction By Fire On the Farm of Emanuel Lenan South of This City Last Night.

Four horses, two mules, sixty acres of excellent timothy hay, all farm machinery and a large horse barn were destroyed by a fire caused by lightning this morning about five o'clock. The destroyed property belonged to Emanuel Lenan, the disastrous fire occurring on his farm three miles south of this city on the river road. The farm is known as the Eldred farm and was purchased of Charles Baines by Mr. Lenan last year.

The lightning bolt struck the barn which was almost immediately enveloped in flames so that it was impossible to save any of the contents and the unfortunate owner was forced to stand helplessly by while his horses perished in the flames. The financial loss is great, the hay alone representing over $1,000, new hay selling really for $10 a ton undelivered. This with the valuable horses, farm machinery and the building will run the loss up to a large figure.

Chicago, July 24.—The annual convention of the International Baptist Young Peoples' Union will be formally opened here tonight with church services. The formal opening occurs tomorrow evening. Three sessions of the convention will be held daily until Sunday. Fifteen thousand visitors and delegates are expected.

Yanked Down the Bills

Many awnings throughout the city were badly damaged last night by some parties taking down the Buffalo Bill signs that had been placed on the awnings. In many cases the bills had been pinned on with safety pins. The parties taking them down did not take the trouble to unfasten the pins, but grabbed the bills and tore them loose. If the awning happened to be the least bit old the result was a big rent in the awning. Many of the storekeepers declare that they will never again allow their awnings to be used as billboards.

CHINA IS THE FOOTBALL OF NATIONS; VIEWS OF EX-MINISTER DENBY

An Interesting Foreign Talk Before the Monona Lake Assembly at Madison Yesterday.

Madison, Wis., July 24.—[Special]—A prudent and in accord with the best principles of government. There are two great principles to be settled, the protection of foreigners, and the dividing up of China. If foreigners are not to be protected it will be useless to send ministers to China, or engage in business enterprises there. It is essential that the government have assurance that there will be no more seizure of Chinese territory. Manila will be the queen city of the east and the Pacific ocean will become the highway of the nations. On the Philippine question Mr. Denby endorsed the course of the administration, and the decision of the United States is bound to cut a big figure in the future of the East.

Ex-Minister Denby gave a very interesting address on China and the Far East, yesterday afternoon. He said that the treatment of China by the foreign powers has been wrong in his opinion. China has been the football of the nations ever since her trouble with Japan in 1894. The action of the United States has been

WHY THERE WERE NO PROSTRATIONS; HEAT DURING PAST WEEK WAS DRY

Lack of Rain and Moisture Was the Reason Why There Was So Little Sickness—A Few Left-Over Stories From Sunday.

There has been a lot of wondering done by people not medically informed over the fact that there have been so few prostrations from heat and as comparatively little sickness during these weeks of continual torridity. Physicians find no cause for astonishment and say that it is the natural thing to expect.

Local physicians who have been interviewed are authority for the statement that the entire lack of rain is an absolute reason to explain why there have been almost no prostrations and so little sickness. The medical theory is that heat, without moisture, does not hurt any one and does not cause sickness, no matter how intense it is. On the other hand, heat and moisture together, are a fatal combination, breathing ill health. This theory is illustrated by the Turkish bath where dry hot air is used with beneficial results. It is also exemplified by the hot air apparatus which physicians use, and in which, under proper conditions, a man's hand, arm or entire body can be subjected to 500 degrees of heat, although ordinarily meat cooks at a little over 300 degrees. If the man's flesh is perfectly dry and there is no moisture around the apparatus he will not be harmed by the intense heat, but if he should happen to be perspiring, he would be severely burned.

It is on this principle that the good health which prevails largely in this city is explained. If there had been the same amount of heat with frequent rains there would have been many prostrations and much sickness. Combined heat and humidity have prevailed in New York and account for the large number of prostrations and deaths in that city. Here the air has been absolutely dry and the heat has been robbed of its power to strike people down. Few people could have withstood its long continued attack had frequent showers kept the air laden with humidity.

There are a few left-over heat stories from Sunday that do not need warning up to make them capable of being relished. To say that Sunday was a record breaker, to enumerate the degrees to which mercury climbed in a mad attempt to outdo all previous achievements, an attempt which was successful, by the way, does not adequately portray the torture which is still fresh in the minds of all who suffered.

It was a day that will long be remembered, although it was joy to be able to forget it. It was a day when the modern conventionalities of dress were ignored and the historical lady who won fame by going around economically clothed in a

TO SPEND $11,000 IN PENNIES.
Copper Men Devise Unique Way to Advertise their Business.
Elks from the copper country of Lake Superior promise to leave a long, red trail behind them at the annual gathering at Milwaukee this week.
Eighty of them, all big copper men, have fixed up a plan whereby they design trouble for the entire city of Milwaukee. Not one of them will spend a cent except it be bright, new red coppers. The total number collected for the use of the party is $11,000, and a special car has been turned over to them by the St. Paul road to transport the coin to its destination.
At Milwaukee the train will be met by an armored wagon and four mounted guards. The wagon is to be stationed at a central point for the convenience of the eighty, and all hotel, bar, street car, carriage and other bills are to be paid in this way. The scheme was devised as an advertisement for the copper country, and the party was selected because of its ability to put money into circulation.

GREAT VALUE OF THE APPLE CROP

Next to the Cotton Crop It is the Largest of All United States Products.

How little we hear of the value of the apple crop, and yet on an average yield it is worth more than the average cotton crop. Of the great cereal crops only corn exceeds it in value year after year. Only occasionally and in exceptional years is wheat worth more.

According to Then Independent the American apple crop for 1900 aggregated 215,000,000 barrels, being worth at an average price of $2 a barrel the enormous aggregate of $430,000,000.

Compare these figures with the following:

Crop	Value
Corn crop of 1899	$629,210,110
Hay crop of 1899	411,328,187
Wheat crop of 1899	319,545,259
Cotton crop of 1898	305,467,041
Oats crop of 1899	198,167,975

In the case of most of these farm products the yield and its value from year to year is pretty accurately approximated. But the estimate of The Independent for obvious reasons may be millions of barrels out. No man or bureau knows what part of the apple crop is marketed and what utilized on the premises. Millions of barrels go into the production of cider, vinegar, jellies and preserves. Other millions go into the production of the best pie that mother ever made—to say nothing of 'apple sass.'

Then think of the countless barrels that are needed to stock up the universal apple stand. One industrious 'Apple Mary' disposes of fifty barrels in a city block yearly in her daily pilgrimages. Millions of bushels are stolen every year from the trees that stretch their heavily laden branches temptingly out over the highways of the land.

No statistics can do justice to the yield, monetary value or dietetic worth of the American apple. As the strawberry is the best berry, so the apple in spite of the part it played in Adam's fall, is the best fruit known to man. It is the king of American fruits.—Record-Herald.

THE NEWS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

AFTON.

Afton, July 23.—An anti-horse theft society was organized here last Saturday evening with sixteen charter members, the following being the roster: W. J. Miller, J. B. Humphrey, H. L. E. Tripp, C. H. Griffin, C. J. Kilmer, G. S. Otis, O. D. Antisdel, Wm. Briakman, August Engelke, F. H. Otis, F. Holzapfel, D. H. Richards, John Yardy, Peter Drafa, J. A. Drummond, and U. G. Waite. The following officers were named to look after the interests of the new society: President, W. J. Miller, 1st vice-president, C. H. Griffin; 2nd vice-president, C. J. Kilmer; secretary, U. G. Waite; treasurer, G. S. Otis. The constitution and by-laws of the organization will be modeled after those governing the Beloit society, a special committee having been appointed to take this work in hand and report at the meeting to be held next Saturday evening. One important thing settled at the first meeting was the fixing of the membership fee which is one dollar. At the next meeting the organization will be perfected by the selection of a police force with a captain and first and second lieutenants. All who are interested in this effort for mutual protection are urged to attend the meeting on next Saturday evening. Come and join.

The funeral of Miss Helen M. Eddy, who died at the home of her nephew, J. H. Eddy, in the city of Beloit, last Wednesday night, was held at the Baptist church here last Saturday at 3 p. m. Rev. Howard Hanson of Beloit, officiating. The pall bearers were four brothers of the deceased: Dr. J. H. Eddy of Wakefield, Mich.; Prof. R. J. Eddy of Beloit, W. E. Eddy, of Rockton, Ill.; and J. C. Eddy, of the town of Beloit. Miss Eddy was formerly a resident of this town and was highly esteemed by those who knew her. The interment was in Afton cemetery.

Sunday was the hottest day ever experienced in this place, the thermometer ranging all the way from 100 to 114 the greater part of the day. This excessive temperature coupled with the hot wind which prevailed served to make life a burden. All vegetation begins to show the effects of the terrible scorching it is getting and leaves are beginning to fall from the trees as dry and crisp as they are late in the fall. It is now up to the "oldest inhabitant" to remember a time like this through which we are passing. Can he do it?

In spite of the torrid weather, a fair congregation greeted Rev. Howard Hanson at the Baptist church last Sunday evening and he showed his appreciation by delivering a fine discourse. Hear him next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The C. & N. W. Ry. company is preparing to raise the roadbed three feet on the main line between Afton station and the rock cut. This means a like elevation for the iron bridge spanning Bass creek.

Mrs. J. B. Humphrey and daughters May and Ruth, left Monday for Delavan Lake, where they will remain during the assembly.

Misses May Starr of Janesville and Luella Starr of Newark, were guests of Jessie McCrea over Sunday. The marriage of Charles H. Hayner and Miss Mosher came as a surprise to the groom's friends here in his home town, but they are none the less hearty in their well wishes for future happiness.

WEST PORTER.

West Porter, July 23.—Mrs. Martha Brunzell Davis passed away at her home in West Porter Thursday, July 23rd, 1901. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brunzell, and was married to William E. Davis, Nov. 24, 1898. She was twenty-one years, two months and two days of age and had resided in the town of Porter nearly all her life. She was beloved by all who knew her and her late illness was borne with great patience and uncomplainingly. She leaves a husband and infant daughter, father and mother, four sisters and four brothers to mourn her loss and a large circle of friends who extend their sympathy to the bereaved family. The funeral services were held from her late home Saturday at 2 o'clock, and the interment was in the Evansville cemetery beside her little son, Chester, who preceded her to the other world a little more than a month ago.

Miss Sadie Evans, of Monticello, has been visiting at her uncle's, R. J. Wallace, the last few days. Miss Jennie Sperry, of North Johnston, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Burr Tolles transacted business in Stoughton Friday. The usual number from Porter are planning to attend the Monona assembly. A large number of farmers in this vicinity are taking a great interest in the Rock county fair which is to be held at Evansville Sept. 3, 4, 5, 1901. Great efforts are being made by the farmers to make the best exhibitions that are possible and to make the fair the best one of all. Besides the exhibitions the fair association have secured special attractions, such as the Iowa Carnival company, a full brass band to be in attendance each day, and races of various kinds, bicycle track riding, etc.

Marquart and George Barnhart, started out Friday with their threshing outfit improved as they purchased a new machine this year. The work of threshing out the grain will be a short job.

Mr. Ansley and his force of help from Milton Junction are at work on Scott Robinson's new residence.

The ladies' meeting held at Mrs. James Stewart's Wednesday was well attended in spite of the heat, about thirty being present to enjoy Mrs. Stewart's hospitality. The next meeting will be held at the Otter Creek church Wednesday, July 31.

The Otter Creek school house was crowded Monday evening with men, women and children. The question of raising money for a new school was voted against by a vote of 28 to 24. There are in the district eight or ten who are in favor of the new school but who were not on hand to cast their ballots.

Saturday evening, July 27, there will be an ice cream and cake social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fern Sievert for the benefit of Otter Creek church.

Joseph Kraus lost his horse last week which was so badly cut on the wire last spring.

Miss Leola Stedman entertained her Sabbath school class at her home Saturday afternoon. The mothers of the children were also present and all enjoyed the afternoon. The teacher and her class had their pictures struck off by Owen Gates of Milton Junction. Ice cream, cake, fruit and other good things too numerous to mention were served on the lawn. All went home feeling grateful to Mrs. Stedman and her family for the kindness shown them.

A fine shower Wednesday afternoon did a great deal of good. Crops in this vicinity are about the same as elsewhere. Pastures burned down except the marshes which look green and bright in spite of the drought.

Eddie Sievert entertained eighteen of his little friends Tuesday afternoon in honor of his seventh birthday.

Will Barrett was taken very seriously ill one night last week owing to the extreme heat, but is now getting better.

Last Sunday was a record breaker as regards heat in this locality. Thermometers supposed to be correct registered 107, while others went higher.

Death has again entered our midst and snatched another just in the bloom of youth, as last Friday evening Miss Mamie Boyle closed her eyes from the joys and sorrows of the world. The deceased was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Boyle, and was a young lady who to know was to love. She was about twenty-three years old, had been ailing only a few months, and although everything that could be done was done for her, that grim destroyer, consumption, claimed its prey. The funeral was held on Monday, services being conducted by Rev. J. E. Harlan in St. Michael's church and afterward she was laid to rest in the cemetery beside the church.

The Blood HEALTHY OR DISEASED

When there is a natural and healthy circulation of the blood, the entire quantity, estimated at one-eighth the weight of the body, passes through the heart every five minutes. This rapid flow of the blood through the system prevents the entrance of disease germs and impurities of every description. It filters out all that is not necessary or good for the growth and development of the body and nourishing and strengthening the muscles, tissues, nerves and bones. But, unfortunately, few persons can rightly claim an absolutely pure blood supply and perfect and unpolluted circulation, and in consequence are exposed to innumerable diseases. Contagious Blood Poison, the greatest enemy to mankind, enters the system through the blood, and Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter—in fact the majority of human ailments—are caused by poisons or humors that are engendered and fostered in a sluggish and impoverished blood. Old sores, chronic ulcers and rheumatic pains are common, especially among old people, whose blood naturally grows thin and pale because of the lack of the red corpuscles that give color and strength to youthful blood. Sallow complexions and rough, oily skins evidence some constitutional or blood trouble, which salves, lotions, powders nor any external treatment can cure. Diseases that originate in the blood, whether they manifest themselves as ulcers, tumors, itching eruptions, muscular or bone pains, require a tonic and blood purifier such as S. S. S., which not only antiseptics and neutralizes blood poisons and humors, but possesses health-giving tonic properties that no other blood medicine does. It goes down to the very foundation of the disease and eliminates from the system everything of a poisonous character or that obstructs and clogs the circulation. It builds up and imparts new strength and vitality to the old innutritious blood, and when the arteries and veins are once more filled with new rich blood, the general health begins to improve, muscles grow stronger, and sores and eruptions of every kind disappear.

S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier, and the purest and most reliable in all blood diseases. It has been tested in thousands of cases during the past fifty years and is more popular today than ever. We will be glad to send you our book free, and if in need of medical advice write our physicians all about your case; this information will cost you nothing and comes from experienced and educated doctors. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

Seek Relief!

The great proportion of women who suffer never make a serious effort to benefit themselves. The most of them go on paying no attention to their little menstrual disorders, believing they will eventually wear off. They grow worse and worse every day. At the period of menstruation a woman is peculiarly susceptible to cold and other external influences and it is also the most favorable time for the development of hidden disease germs which may be lurking in the system. Any physician knows that disordered menstruation, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea are blighting lives in almost every home. No woman should neglect herself a moment after she sees indications of female diseases. Almost instant relief can be secured by the use of

WINE OF CARDUI

It will relieve you right in your own home. Will you accept the testimony of Mrs. Belgier and thousands of other women and really seek relief today? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

100 Chicago Street, Fort Wayne, Ind., March 27, 1900.

Your Wine of Cardui has done a world of good for me. I have used five bottles of the Wine and one package of Theodor's Black-Draught. And since I have started to use it I will not be without it in the house. It helped my sister in Toledo, who did not menstruate as she ought. She was sixteen years of age and nothing else helped her. I was in a very bad state myself before I used your medicine, but I found relief in three days. And now I feel like a new woman and do all my housework and washing, which I could not do before I took Wine of Cardui. I would be very glad to write my poor woman and tell her how I suffered before I used Wine of Cardui.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Generally fair tonight and Thursday.

The young lady is making for herself a place in the business offices of the world. She has taken almost complete possession of the stenographic desk and is rapidly driving her brother from the book-keeper's table; to say nothing of the professions of medicine, law and teaching. One prominent reason for these changes is the fact that young women can afford to work cheaper than their brothers, who are clamoring for enough to support two in order to begin a home. But there are openings for young ladies where their natural ability makes them more acceptable than men as a rule, and it should be the desire of every self-supporting girl to occupy a position where she can excel by virtue of her God-given powers, rather than as a result of mercenary competition. In Prussia there are 3,000 lady chemists and nearly as many lady microscopists, and they are given preference whenever they compete with men of equal attainments. The manufacturing world is seeking the assistance and advice of the chemist more every year, our products are being made on scientific principles. The iron and steel worker demands the opinion of a chemist before he can bring his products up to the highest standard of excellence. What is true in the business of metallurgy is to a greater extent true of the producers of food products, to say nothing of the manufacturers of patent preparations. Even the farmer is coming to the point of consulting the state or United States chemist as regards fertilizers and natural qualities of his soil. In the profession of chemistry women have the advantage of men in their delicate and accurate observation and manipulation. Then, too, it is a profession that has for women the advantage of home work, the seclusion and privacy of a home laboratory adds a pleasure to a calling which demands quickness of eye and hand uninfluenced by the hurly burly of noisy business life. The importance of the calling is illustrated by the fact that our courts are depending more and more on the expert to determine a question of life and death to the prisoner, and where is there a power to question the decisions of chemists in such trials as that of Leutgart of Burke or Dr. Holmes and thousands of others? The health of most of our cities depends to a certain extent on the daily work of city chemists, who not only warn, but provide means of defeating disease in its many forms. The position of an expert is one to be desired by all, but particularly by woman who has a natural ability superior to man along the line of delicate perception and manipulation.

We have been accustomed to look on the negro race as lacking in a sense of duty and the moral courage to accomplish the truly heroic. The records of some of the colored regiments during the civil war and the war with Spain seem to disprove the statement, as well as records of individual bravery and self-sacrificingness. The Kentucky colored laborer, who, in his chance to escape from a boiler into which steam had been turned by accident, stepped aside, helped out a comrade, saying: "You go first, Jim; you're married," and himself took the fatal scalding, presented as high an ideal of true heroism as is found in the annals or traditions of mankind.

Minister Wu has drawn a parallel of the Chinese and Americans, in that his people make the crackers that we use on the Fourth. Second, in his country the people are the most important element in the government. Third, our principle, "All men are equal," is similar to China's competitive examination system, by which the poor man's son has the same chance as the rich man's providing he has the brains. And last, the governments are based on the same principles. Although it may be hard for some Americans to believe this of China it may be equally difficult for the Chinese to believe in Americans holding that all governments should rest on the consent of the governed.

Admiral Schley's prosecution of Mr. Maclay will probably not reopen the famous controversy; it will simply vindicate a gallant officer in the minds of an admiring public, and forever denounce such offender against public morality as the author of the history in question.

THEY PURCHASE OUR PICTURES

Great American Painters. All Represented in French Art Galleries. I am no great admirer of the French government of the day, for I am too good a patriot to believe in cosmopolitanism and I have never seen anything admirable in breaking church windows. When I was a youngster there was one bad boy in our neighborhood. I know he was bad because he used to throw stones at the minister's cat. The socialists and internationalists who rule France today are too much like that bad boy to suit my conservative tastes. Still they are good men in their way. Their theories aside, they act like decent fellows, instructed, art-loving men and Frenchmen. Every now and then the government announces that it has bought some picture and by placing it in a public gallery—given it to the people and the world. Not one great American painter of the day is unrepresented in the national art galleries of France. Look at the Luxembourg, with its collection—finer than any in the United States—of pictures by our best men, Whistler, Sargent and a score of others. He, too, works for his country who only stands and paints.

However, while the best of the great American artists' work is being bought in by the French government to enrich France, the government of our own country is quite unconcerned. And in a few years what would we not give for Whistler's Portrait of My Mother, for Walden's Cardiff Docks, for Sargent's Carmencita?—a king's ransom, my friends. And that is the right kind of patriotism—the national preservation of the works of our men have made. It makes for the future. Seed may be sown on a canvass as well as on the prairies of the middle west. All this means that the French government has bought Lionel Walden's last Salon picture—that should have gone to the new home of art that some statesman will found some day or other in Washington, D. C.—Saturday Post.

THE AUSTRALIAN PARLIAMENT

Six Senators Are Serving from Each of the States. The first parliament of the new commonwealth of Australia was recently opened with special pomp and ceremony. The tariff question was the chief issue in the elections, which took place late in March. Should duties be levied with a view of protecting home industries; or for revenue chiefly, with some regard to protection; or for revenue solely, without regard to other considerations? This was the question upon which the parties divided, and they were known respectively as High Tariffists, Low Tariffists, or Free Traders according to the principle for which they stood. There are thirty-six senators in the parliament—six for each of the states forming the federation, little Tasmania having as large a representation in the senate as New South Wales or Victoria, just as with us Nevada has as many senators as New York. There are 75 members of the House of Representatives, apportioned by population. Senators and representatives were chosen by the same electors, and on the same days, but the senators on a general ticket, while the representatives in most instances were elected by districts. The result of the elections was to give a free trade or low tariff majority of six in the Senate and a protection or high tariff majority of five in the House of Representatives. This close division, with the margin in the Senate on one side and in the House on the other side, of the most important question which the parliament will have to consider, suggests a possibility of such conflicts of policy as have occurred in this country when the Senate and House were controlled by different political parties. The Australian premier Mr. Barton, and all his colleagues are protectionists. Next to tariff, labor questions are likely to be prominent. The Labor party, which secured eight seats in the Senate and sixteen in the House, knows what it wants, and will be an aggressive force.—Youth's Companion.

A Reward of Vice. We read in the daily papers that a Frenchman left 10,000,000 francs to the city of Rouen for the purpose of giving a prize annually as a marriage gift to two giants, the design being to improve the physical stature of the race. This seems the silliest of all "rewards of vice," which much modern philanthropy is. Giants are usually diseased, the most certainly so the larger they are, and they are of less service to the world than people of ordinary size. Indeed, gigantism is itself a disease. Then, too, the law of inheritance doesn't always work as planned by the foolish count. His marriage prize would very likely have the very opposite result from what he wished.—Ex.

Daughter of Confederate Colonel. Miss Pauline Vincent Mosby, daughter of Colonel John S. Mosby of the confederate army, received her diploma recently from the Maryland university hospital in Baltimore, where she graduated as a professional nurse. Miss Mosby was one of twelve students who finished their course, all of whom, with one exception, are southern women. Miss Mosby will leave for California, where her father now lives, and at once begin her career as a trained nurse.

FIRE IN GRASS DID SOME DAMAGE

A grass fire that did about five hundred dollars' worth of damage and destroyed twelve acres of hay land started from a spark from a passing locomotive on the farm of Thomas Pratt on Monday. The ground was terribly dry and the fire, fanned by a brisk breeze spread with great rapidity through the underbrush of the timber land. Mr. Pratt and a number of his neighbors, assisted by two gangs of railroad section men, fought the fire and finally subdued it. Many times when they thought that the fire was completely subdued it broke out at a fresh point and took another start. Mr. Pratt has made an offer to settle with the railroad company for $300 which he claims will not near cover his loss.

A Travel Point Pan-American Exposition

THE Pan-American, to be held at Buffalo, N. Y., May 1 to Nov. 1, will be one of the greatest and most beautiful expositions the world has known. To enjoy its beauties will be worth any effort. The question of traveling to and from Buffalo is one to be carefully considered. You will desire to travel by the route offering the most comfort and interest. The return trip, too, must be considered, as after you have done the Exposition, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and vicinity, you'll be tired and wish to reach home quickly.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway

as the leading line to Buffalo by reason of the frequency of its trains and the certainty and punctuality of their movement will best meet this requirement. It is the only double track line, and the completeness of its service—eight through trains daily among them the only daylight train, places it at the forefront among Eastern roads. The country traversed is the fairest and richest of the Middle States—the most interesting on the way to Buffalo.

All tickets over this route afford use of steamers either way between Cleveland and Buffalo, also stop at Chautauque on return trip within limit of ticket. Our "Book of Trains" contains full information. Sent free on request. Look it through carefully.

RAIN DID NOT DO CROPS MUCH GOOD

STORM LAST NIGHT CONFINED TO THIS VICINITY.

Very little rain in other parts of Rock County—Oat crop for crops getting gloomier every day—Tobacco doomed—Small hope for corn—Oat crop in bad shape.

Just as Janesville has been the center of the drought that has afflicted this section of the country for several weeks past so it was the storm center last evening. Telephone messages to the Gazette correspondents in various parts of the county show that the showers were much lighter at other places than they were at this city.

Here there were two heavy soaking showers, one early in the evening and one about three o'clock this morning. The evening shower was heavier at Spring Brook than it was in the city and it is estimated that about two inches of water fell. Water stood in great pools but was quickly absorbed by the parched earth.

An encouraging crop report comes from Emerald Grove, where Mr. Ransom threshed barley yesterday for W. A. Dean. Five men were pitching in the field and forty acres of barley were threshing forty bushels to the acre.

The barley was white as snow and of splendid quality. David Barless, of this city also says that the barley on his farm is above the average both in quality and in yield.

While the farmers of the county are generally pretty blue over the prospects there is a feeling in many localities that the situation has been exaggerated and that the crops will come out better than has been prophesied. Many feel confident that good general rains would brighten the outlook considerably although others fear that the time has passed when rain could do much good as far as the crops are concerned.

There was a light shower at Emerald Grove last evening and Milton was visited by a nice little shower between six and seven o'clock last night. At Edgerton there was enough rain last evening to lay the dust and there were heavy rains about five miles north of that city. Brodhead was visited by a light shower last evening and another this morning.

At Beloit there was no rain at all last night but a splendid shower between six and seven o'clock this morning. After reports a light rain fell, commencing last evening and continuing at intervals until this morning. There was much electricity in the air and this was also true of the storm in this city. During this morning's rain the lightning was especially vivid and the heavy thunder was almost continuous.

What the county really needs is a heavy rain that would continue for several days, for a shower followed by intense heat is of little benefit. According to the Milwaukee Sentinel of this morning, Dr. W. M. Wilson, director of the Milwaukee weather bureau sees little hope for the southern counties of the state. He says:

"From the reports received from our correspondents today I should say that the local rains of the past week did practically no good. The tobacco crop will be small and inferior. The plants which were set out during the first planting will live and will make part of a crop, but the second planting, as it is called, will be practically a failure. In some places even the early planting is beyond redemption. Rain at once would save the early planting from loss, but could not help the later planting much."

"The hay crop in the southern section was of a good quality and fairly heavy. The pastures are all dried up and the farmers are cutting their green oats to feed to their cattle. The oat crop is in bad shape and so is the barley, for both have been forced in their growth and are shrinking, which is caused by the premature ripening brought on by the heat. The crop of these grains is light and will not be the best quality. The corn in the low and swampy places in the southern counties is in fairly good shape, but on the higher fields, along the ridges and in sandy soil, in every place, in fact, where the soil does not hold the moisture, the corn is wholly or partially a failure. What I have said applies of course only to the southern counties, for the central and northern parts of the state have had plenty of rain, and the crops are in excellent condition."

PRETTY AFTERNOON PARTY

Mrs. D. K. Jeffris and Mrs. Frank H. Jackman Entertained Yesterday. The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Jeffris, 55 St. Lawrence Place, has been the scene of many delightful social events but none was more memorable than the pretty afternoon party given yesterday at which Mrs. D. K. Jeffris and Mrs. Frank H. Jackman were the hostesses and Mrs. Fred Hanchett, of LaCrosse, and Mrs. Arthur Wheelock, of Rockford, were the guests of honor.

Thirty young society women composed the company which enjoyed the gracious hospitality of the hostesses yesterday afternoon from half after two o'clock until nearly evening. There were no elaborate decorations or other arrangements for the entertainment of the guests but a perfect lack of formality characterized the entire affair and added to its pleasure.

In one corner of the dining room Miss Margaret Jackman presided over a great punch bowl which was kept well filled with raspberry punch, a cooling drink which was greatly appreciated and which made the corner a very popular one. In the cool and pleasant parlor were the card tables at which the afternoon was spent in the enjoyment of a new game, seven handed euchre, which caused much amusement. Mrs. Frank B. Farnsworth and Mrs. Charles Bostwick were the prize winners and received handsome souvenirs of the occasion. The afternoon came to a pleasant close with dainty and appetizing refreshments served on the broad porch.

SUGHRUA FAMILY MOVE TO CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Sughrua moved to Chicago today to take up their residence in that city. Mr. Sughrua, who has been in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern company for several years, has been rewarded for faithful service by promotion to a passenger run which makes the city the most convenient place for his home. Last evening about forty of their friends paid Mr. and Mrs. Sughrua an unexpected visit to remind them that their Janesville friends regret sincerely their departure and to tender them best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity. The evening was spent enjoyably with cards and other games and the delicious refreshments which were served were by no means the least pleasant feature of the occasion. The surprise was a delightful one and the happy hostess received a handsome souvenir of this farewell visit from her friends.

Greek Origin of Word Academy. Academus was a wealthy Greek of Athens who lived several hundred years before the birth of Christ. Among his possessions was a beautiful grove, where young men used to congregate and listen to the teachings of wise men, such as Plato and Socrates. This developed into the school of modern times, and these modern schools take their name "academy" from the old Greek Academus. The real meaning of the word academy is a school for boys.

MERCURY RUNS UP FROM 100 TO 108

Another Dreadfully Hot Day Caused by Humidity in the Air—Lightning Bolt Last Night.

Is there to be no limit to what suffering humanity is called upon to endure. To many people today it has seemed the most insufferable of the summer. While last Sunday is still a few degrees to the good so far as the heat record goes, today it has crowded the established record very closely. The rain which was so gladly welcomed last night has left unwelcome reminders of its visit in the humidity which has pervaded the air and which has made today the most enervating of the summer. The thermometer registered from 100 to 108 in the shade in various parts of the city at one o'clock today and the humidity rose nearly as high as the temperature.

Weather forecasts for the day told of possible local thunderstorms which would increase rather than relieve the distress but calmly assured people that there was no break in the terrible drought which has held the country in its cracking, dusty grasp for so many weeks. If the weather prophets are correct there is no such thing as a general rain in sight.

Some little relief has been found today in the fact that light clouds have overcast the sun at intervals and tempered its burning, blinding glare.

One of the first lightning bolts which accompanied last evening's storm struck a large iron watering trough near the grocery at the corner of Caroline and Glen streets in the Second ward. The trough had been full of water but the lightning cleaned it out dry.

At an early hour this morning lightning struck a stack of hay on the farm of F. H. Edden in the town of Harmony. The stack containing about fourteen tons and valued at $150 was entirely consumed by the fire started by the lightning. Mr. Edden was in town today adjusting his loss with the town of Harmony Fire Insurance company.

CROWDS OUT TO SEE BUFFALO BILL

About two thousand people gathered at the show grounds at Spring Brook last evening and witnessed Buffalo Bill's second performance. Most of the complimentary seats were represented in the audience and those who had free tickets made the loudest kick about the quality of the performance. The riding was superb and the maneuvers of the soldiers and artillery men were well executed.

The shooting exhibitions given by Miss Annie Oakley, Johnny Baker and Buffalo Bill were certainly fine. The cowboys, Indians, Cossacks and others gave very good exhibitions of rough riding.

The Mexicans performed some marvellous tricks with the lasso and showed the audience how easy it was to rope a horse or steer.

Taking it all together it was a fair performance but not up to what people had been led to expect.

CONTRACT TO BUILD CITY HALL IS LET

The contract between the city and James Rowson and Son for the erection of the city hall was signed yesterday. Mr. Rowson lost no time in subletting parts of the work and claims that within two weeks work on the building will begin. As much of the work as possible will be performed by home labor, and Janesville will be given all possible benefit from the work.

The contractors do not expect to complete the work this season, but will have the building all roofed in so that the interior work can be carried on during the winter. Berea stone will be used in the construction of the building and is a very handsome material. Fifelet Bros. secured the contract for furnishing the brick which is quite an item in the construction of the building. All the main inside walls will be of brick and the outside walls backed with them.

F. E. Green of this city has the contract for the heating and plumbing and the contractors expect to close contracts with local men for painting, galvanized iron work and hardware. Contractor Rowson will also try and secure the library job, as two jobs of this kind can be handled to a better advantage than one.

WOODMEN ATTENTION

W. of A., are requested to meet in the dining room of the West Side Odd Fellows' hall at 8 o'clock tonight to make arrangements to attend the funeral of the late Neighbor George Barriage. In the municipal court this morning the case of C. S. Jackman, administrator of the estate of Mary Kelle deceased, vs. J. J. Maltress to recover a piano which it was claimed was unlawfully replevined was called. A change of venue was taken to the circuit court.

HOW TO MASTER A GRIEF

"Everyone can master a grief, but he that has it."

There are a whole lot of griefs and grieving which are done over spilt milk—in other words, griefs of a financial nature, and are not such terrible bogies as those who make moan over them would have us believe. The man who is afflicted thus should tell his troubles to an Aetna Life Insurance man and if the Aetna Life man can't help him, his case is chronic. HARLIN E. CARY, Gen'l Agent. New Phone 222, Suite 415, Hayes Block.

Boer Prisoners Escaping.

London, July 24.—The British war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, July 23. "French reports that Crabbe, with 300 men, was attacked in the mountains, near Cradock, by Kritzinger at dawn July 21. The horses stampeded. An all-day fight followed. Crabbe fell back on Mortimer. Of 1533 Orange Street, Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "I had been afflicted with my eyes for over a year with such a dreadful itching and inflammation that I could not use them for anything. Physicians had given me many different remedies which were like using so much water; they measured my eyes for glasses, which I got and wore for some time, but they did not benefit me in the least. My mother desired me to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce and explain the condition of my eyes. I did so, and after following your advice, and using eight bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and eight of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I can say my trouble is entirely cured. I would advise any one so afflicted to try these wonderful medicines. My health was never so good as it is now, and I shall never tire of praising Dr. Pierce's medicines." Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter and secure a specialist's advice free of charge.

Victor Hugo's Love.

In its inception the love of Victor Hugo for Adele Foucher was not lacking in romance, though of the most delicate and innocent kind. They had known each other as children, and little Victor had already spent many an evening in gazing silently on his future wife. The first direct avowal made between them (and here the poet transgressed the continental etiquette of courtship) was when he was 17 and she was 16. They were playing in the garden (for a boy of 17 is only a child in France), and in a burst of confidence the young girl said, "Tell me your greatest secret, and I will tell you mine." "My greatest secret," said Victor, "is that I love you." "My greatest secret is that I love you," echoed Adele. But though they had spoken, the kisses which we consider proper to seal the troth do not appear to have followed. In an ode written later on the poet remarks, with his usual hyperbole of phrase, "You loved me without transports, I loved you without madness."

Adele soon became frightened at the audacity of their affection, and when she shows the verses Victor has sent her, her girl friends are scandalized. They say that he will lose his respect for her, but to reassure her he signs his letters, "Your husband." He tells her that she has become the daughter of General Hugo by pledging herself to him, and the Napoleonic legend was sufficiently strong to make the son of a hero of the empire worth loving. The result of even so small a flight of romance as the lovers seeing each other alone was inevitable.

When a year had elapsed, the parents found out the affair, and relations were broken off between the two families. Tied to his mother's apron strings (albeit he was twenty), Victor wept, then broke into a furious diatribe, and sat down and wrote a novel. But however useful the sorrow of his heart may have been as material, he did not give up hope. The father of his young lady having written a "Manual of Recruiting," he indicted a eulogistic review; and as this did not draw the stern parent he sent him his ode on the birth of an heir to the throne. M. Foucher replied with thanks, not to the poet, but to the poet's mother, and the chasm became a little narrower owing to this ingenious use of literature.

Love sickness began to tell on the poet, and he made up his mind at all costs to learn if Adele loved him still. Like most young ladies of the period, she was taking drawing lessons, and he obtained an interview with her by the prosaic means of stopping her in the street. It was somewhat heroic for a French lover to do it, and his bravery was rewarded; then the interrupted correspondence again. The lover watches her unperceived when she goes to mass; he hovers near the house where he sees her light burning at night. Then a dramatic incident happens. Victor Hugo's mother dies suddenly; on the evening of the day of the funeral he cannot resist the idea of seeking consolation from Adele. He goes to the house where her father is giving a ball; he enters unperceived, and sees Adele laughing and talking gaily. Believing that she does not care for his sorrow, he rushes out, and some time will elapse, and explanations have to be made before the wound is healed.

M. Foucher calls to pay a visit of condolence, but the embargo is not removed till the father takes his daughter into the country. Victor follows them and, with the assurance of a young man, writes to say that he has seen them with the greatest surprise; that he would instantly leave the village had he not accepted several engagements, etc. The pity or the sense of humor of M. Foucher was touched, and he permits an interview, during which the poet asks for Adele's hand. It was the romanticist period, and the father allows an engagement, though not an "official" one, in the hope that Victor's circumstances will improve. But for the present Victor may only write to the father, and his passion is only expressed in very quiet—I might almost say "official"—terms.

When the love letters begin again, the earlier impetuosity and pessimism have mellowed to a more manly strain. The poet is somewhat didactic and had a great deal of advice to give his sweetheart, but there was a subtle, unconscious flattery in his forbidding her to let herself be snubbed by other women. He is still treading of the clouds when he remarks that "a man whose one thought is of an eternity of love and happiness sees earthly things in the true proportion they have from the height. He accepts fortune with calm, and sorrow with serenity, because all that changes around him is but accessory to a union which cannot change." Happy lover, and, like that other described by a poet whose love never came to flower in the immortal line—

Forever wilt thou love and she be fair!
Adele still seems to be thinking of the unconventionality of their love. An English girl would not ask for so many assurances of respect, but Victor had to inform his betrothed categorically that her behavior had been perfect. He talks very seriously to her, and he is scarcely past his twenty-first year when he writes, "Independently of my sorrows and domestic troubles" (his father, the general, gave him a very small allowance), "I have to resign myself to the disgust of literary hatreds." He, the great Victor, already surrounded by wicked detractors! "I am ashamed for the profession of letters!" he adds.

A CURIOUS NARRATIVE. An Incident That Led to a Chapel's Construction.

In the outlying hamlet of Mugginton there is a quasi-Palladian chapel, about fifteen feet square, which is commonly known as Halter Devil chapel. The story is a bad one, says the Derby (England) Mercury. Francis Brown, who had a bad reputation both for drunkenness and for feeding his horses at the expense of his neighbors went forth one night to bring home a truant steed and in spite of drink and darkness, found the animal without difficulty. On reaching home and bringing out the lantern he found the halter was round the neck of a horned beast which conscience suggested must be the devil himself. He repented of his evil deed and by way of atonement attached a chapel to his own little farm, which was situated on a stretch of land taken into Mugginton from the adjoining parish of Huland. The grotesque attempt at classical architecture which the little chapel presents contrasts strangely enough with the farm buildings to which it is attached. It is said that it has never been consecrated or licensed, but a curate officiates in it once a month and receives the rental of some seventeen acres of land, which form the endowment. On a table in the pediment of the chapel are the lines:

"Francis Brown in his old age
Built him here this hermitage."

The register of Mugginton parish contains the following entry: "1781, June 11th, Francis Brown, of Huland Ward, buried. Intakes Founder of Chapel in 7th Intakes Ward, to be annexed to Mugginton forever, after death of his widow, his daughter and her husband, Edward Allen."

HOW A SEA TURTLE FEEDS.

He Takes a Big Ball of Grass Out to Sea with Him.

With my gastronomic taste, I naturally was very curious to know just what kind of terrapin are caught in these waters, for the dish is one much sought after by epicures and forms part of the menu of every first class hotel on the coast. I was told that none were caught about here, but was invited to a sea turtle hunt. Let the reader imagine a turtle weighing all the way from 1,200 to 1,500 pounds—and not long ago one was turned over on the beach near Miami that weighed more than 1,600 pounds—of course, I am giving the largest weight, for the average weight of those caught along the coast is 500 pounds. After they are caught, the turtles are kept for a long time, their captors feeding them on cabbages, lettuce, turnips, carrots and sea grasses, writes a Florida correspondent for the Baltimore American. The study of this monster shellfish is a most interesting one. In order to get rid of the parasites that cling to their shells they often enter fresh water streams to enjoy a bath, but they are extremely timid and take fright at the least noise. The hunter knows, however, that the turtle feeds in brackish streams, where the tide falls rather low and where the turtle grass grows in great profusion. The turtles cut great quantities of this grass and then roll it into a ball, cementing it as they roll it with the clay in which the grass grows; and in this way, when they have managed to amass a goodly supply of provision, they wait for high tide and float away seaward, feeding as they float. The professional hunters are quick to detect these balls, and just the moment they do so they set their seines and send their peggers, as the men are called, in search of the feeding shoals. Men are not the only enemies the turtles have, however, for bears, raccoons and other animals native to Florida destroy great numbers of them.

Helen Gould's Only Sport.

Bowling is about the only sport Miss Helen Gould cares about, and in order to be able to entertain bowling parties on a magnificent scale she built a beautiful bowling alley at Lyndhurst, her country home at Irvington-on-the-Hudson. The building stands at some distance from her house, on the river's bank, and is perhaps the most complete establishment of its kind in the world. There is the regulation alley, which takes up the center of the building. At either end are round towers; on the first floor of each, opening from the alley, are reception rooms, delightfully cosy, with easy chairs, divans and huge fireplaces. A wide veranda on one side overlooks the tennis court; in summer a roof garden is a feature of the place, with awnings, growing plants, and the most beautiful of views—a charming place for the cup of afternoon tea or a moonlight reverie.—Lealie's Weekly.

THE KAZOO

What Is It?

It is the latest and most complete device in boy suspenders and hose supporters combined that has ever been brought to the attention of mothers who desire to avoid the annoyance of their boys' hose coming unfastened or hose supporter giving out continually.

It is made of the very best and strongest material, using rubber cord of 72 strands, which outwears any elastic web that can be produced. Also we use the Cyclone grip for the hose, which avoids any possibility of their coming unfastened or of cutting the hose. It is made adjustable, so you may hold the hose perfectly smooth. The suspender part buttons as does other suspenders, with same 72 strand rubber strand cord for ends which does not lose the elasticity as does the common web suspender, thereby avoiding the annoyance of having the buttons pull off because of the stretch being out of the suspender, as this end holds its elasticity till worn out.

The prices on the Kazoo is only 50 cents and 75 cents, and the fact that they will outwear any other suspender or supporter by great odds, makes them the most economical article ever offered in this line. They are made in sizes from 4 to 14.

Do not economize by allowing your boy to wear common elastic around the limb, as you endanger the health by stopping the circulation and increase the doctor bill.

NOTICE!

Now that the wall paper rush is over, we are better able than ever to care for your wants. The treatment of wall papers nowadays differs widely from the old-fashioned methods. They are adjusted to the walls and their surroundings with the same care for artistic effect that the artist gives when applying his colors to the canvas. Floral designs are cut out and applied with all the effectiveness of a mural painting; striped designs are prettily mitered and made to yield a much handsomer effect than their cost would intimate. Inexpensive papers for bedrooms are handled in many ingenious ways; for example, rooms with low ceilings are made to look higher, or by another treatment the reverse effect is produced. Such work, of course, must be done by experts; and we employ skilled artists and designers to assist our customers in making selections and give helpful advice on all subjects referring to interior decoration.
